Winter 1976. A smuggler's plane goes missing over Yosemite. Months later, a crew of broke young climbers from Camp 4 find the wreck in a frozen lake and get to the cargo first, starting a legend of smugglers, federal agents, a mysterious black book and a death nobody can quite explain. Eight years in the making, with many of the climbers, rangers and families telling the story on camera for the first time.

"An outrageously delicious story... an incredibly enjoyable and informative watch"
SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE

"Spooky, weird, fun, and legitimately dangerous."
